

TOP SECRET

and our initial analysis revealed significant weaknesses in their set-up. Failures to [REDACTED], and very little investment made so far in improvements.

There's no doubt however that the group have made significant steps to move their industrial technology forward, investing in recruiting a number of tree felling experts and engineers over the past year. However, it doesn't seem to have slowed the downward curve of their business progress, and I see that as a primary motivation for the increase in criminal activity amongst the gang.

Section 4. Vulnerabilities.

If we're to advance our investigation further we need to increase the investment in reconnaissance to identify vulnerabilities. My recommendation would be a three man team, one on the ground and two providing technical support.

The limited efforts we've made so far have proved fruitful, for example the [REDACTED] resulted in the recovery of [REDACTED]
